

Parental Leave, Family Medical Leave (FMLA), and Statutory Absences

Document ID: DOC-008

Effective Date: January 1, 2024

Last Revised: August 1, 2024

Owner: Total Rewards & Benefits Operations

Applicability: All Global Employees

1. Overview and Commitment to Families

Quantic Global Enterprises recognizes that welcoming a new child, recovering from serious illness, or caring for a critically ill family member are significant life events. This policy outlines our comprehensive paid and unpaid leave programs, including Paid Parental Leave, Family and Medical Leave (FMLA), Bereavement Leave, and Military Caregiver Leave.

2. Paid Parental Leave

2.1 Eligibility Criteria

All regular full-time employees who have completed at least six (6) continuous months of service prior to the date of a child's birth, adoption, or foster care placement are eligible for company-sponsored Paid Parental Leave.

2.2 Leave Duration and Benefit Structure

- Primary and Secondary Caregivers: Eligible parents receive up to twelve (12) consecutive weeks of 100% company-paid parental leave.
- Birth Parents Additional Recovery: Birthing mothers are entitled to an additional six (6) to eight (8) weeks of Short-Term Disability benefits for medical recovery following childbirth, prior to the commencement of Paid Parental Leave.
- Usage Window: Paid Parental Leave must be taken within twelve (12) months following the date of the child's birth, legal adoption, or foster placement.
- Flexibility: Leave may be taken in a single continuous block or, with manager and HR approval, in two equal blocks of six (6) weeks.

3. Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA)

3.1 Statutory Eligibility

Under federal FMLA guidelines, eligible employees are entitled to take up to twelve (12) weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave per rolling 12-month period for qualifying reasons:

- The birth, adoption, or foster placement of a child.
- To care for an immediate family member (spouse, child, or parent) with a serious health condition.
- The employee's own serious medical condition that makes them unable to perform essential job functions.
- Qualifying exigencies arising from a military family member's active duty deployment.

3.2 FMLA Qualification Thresholds

To be eligible for FMLA leave, an employee must:

1. Have been employed by the company for at least twelve (12) total months.
2. Have worked at least 1,250 hours during the 12-month period immediately preceding the start of the leave.
3. Work at a location where the company employs 50 or more employees within a 75-mile radius.

3.3 Health Benefits Continuation

During an approved FMLA leave, the company maintains the employee's health, dental, and vision insurance coverage under the same terms and conditions as if the employee had continued working. The employee remains responsible for their standard share of payroll premium deductions.

4. Bereavement Leave

Employees experiencing the loss of an immediate family member (spouse, parent, child, sibling, grandparent, or legal guardian) are entitled to up to five (5) consecutive business days of 100% paid Bereavement Leave. For extended relatives or close associates, up to three (3) days of paid leave may be approved with manager notification.

5. Military Leave and Jury Duty

- Military Leave: Employees enlisted in the Reserve or National Guard who are ordered to active duty or annual training will receive up to two (2) weeks of differential pay per calendar year, bridging the difference between military base pay and standard salary.
- Jury Duty: The company provides up to ten (10) business days of paid leave for summons to jury duty.